

I understand the FCC may overturn New Jersey's DO NOT CALL law. Before the law I was getting 6 to 12 calls a day. If I answered, no one was there and I could not speak to a person.

I pay for my phone service, it is not free. I do not want to pay for a service that I have no control over. I do not want to be bothered by the phone ringing and not having anyone there to speak to.

If the FCC caves in to the pressure of telemarketing, I hope you would at least require that there be no computer generated calls. Any call would have to be made by a person, and I would have the right to tell that person to do not call me in the future.

If I am bothered by telemarketers as I was before, I will be forced to cancel land line phone service.
